

Where the true state sits among deliberately wrong states

The ten shuffled points are DESCRIPTIVE ONLY: ten point estimates over ten seeds, not a null distribution, not a confidence interval, and not a test. No conclusion rests on them. The only tested contrast involving the true state is H-BD2, whose interval crosses zero.